SELF-INTRODUCTION THIS OR THAT

When you meet someone new at work, what do you usually say?
a) “Let me introduce myself.”
b) “Allow me to introduce myself.”
c) “Hi, I don’t think we’ve been introduced.”

I’ve worked for _____ (company’s name) for ___ years as _____ (position)

What did you feel when you just started the job here?

a) Nervous

b) Excited

c) Confident

How do you feel when you have to introduce yourself in business situations?

How long have you been in your current position?

a) Less than 1 year
b) 1-3 years
c) More than 3 years

I've worked for _____ (company's name) for ___ years

Do you think you and your best friend have something in common?

- a) Yes, we both work hard.
- b) A little, maybe in hobbies.
- c) Not really.

What hobbies do you and your colleagues have in common?

- a) Playing sports
- b) Watching movies
- c) Eating out together

When you meet a client, how can you try to find something in common?

- a) Ask about their work
- b) Ask about their hobbies
- c) Ask about their city or culture

Do you and your best friend at work have something in common outside the office?

- a) Yes, same hobby
- b) Yes, same family situation
- c) No, just work connection

In your job, when do you usually tell people to feel free to ask questions?

- a) In a meeting
- b) During training
- c) In casual conversations

A: Hey! Nice to meet you. I'm Alex.
B: Hi Alex! Nice to meet you too.
A: Feel free to call me anytime.
B: Thanks! I might have some questions later.
A: No problem. Feel free to join our team meeting tomorrow.
B: That sounds good. What time is it?
A: At 10 a.m. in the conference room.
B: Perfect. Feel free to show me any documents I should read.
A: Sure! I'll send them to your email.
B: Great, thanks.
A: And feel free to ask anyone on the team for help.
B: I will. I'm excited to start!

Imagine you are talking to a client. Which sounds more polite?

- a) "Don't hesitate to reach out if you need help."
- b) "Call me only if it's urgent."
- c) "Fell free to call me"

A: Good morning. It's a pleasure to meet you. I'm Alex.
B: Good morning, Alex. Nice to meet you as well.
A: Please don't hesitate to contact me if you need help.
B: Thank you. I may have some questions later.
A: Certainly. Please don't hesitate to attend our team meeting tomorrow.
B: That would be helpful. What time is the meeting?
A: It starts at 10 a.m. in the conference room.
B: Thank you. Please don't hesitate to share any documents I should review.
A: Of course. I'll send them to your email.
B: I appreciate it.
A: And please don't hesitate to ask the team if you need guidance.
B: I will. I'm looking forward to learning from everyone.

1. How important do you think it is to make a good self-introduction?
    - a) Very important
    - b) Somewhat important
    - c) Not very important
2. Are there any specific rules that should be followed when making a business introduction in your country?
    - a) Yes, there are formal rules (greeting, title, business card)
    - b) Yes, but only simple rules
    - c) No, it is casual
3. What are some other tips that you would give to someone for making a good business introduction?
    - a) Be confident and friendly
    - b) Smile and listen carefully
    - c) Keep it short and simple

1. How important do you think it is to make a good self-introduction?
    - a) Very important
    - b) Somewhat important
    - c) Not very important
2. Are there any specific rules that should be followed when making a business introduction in your country?
    - a) Yes, there are formal rules (greeting, title, business card)
    - b) Yes, but only simple rules
    - c) No, it is casual
3. What are some other tips that you would give to someone for making a good business introduction?
    - a) Be confident and friendly
    - b) Smile and listen carefully
    - c) Keep it short and simple